Overview

Ten days tracing Vietnam's spectacular coast from the beach clubs and mountain scenery of Da Nang down through the lantern-lit ancient streets of Hoi An, the hidden beaches of Quy Nhon, the rooftop energy of Ho Chi Minh City, the river villages of the Mekong Delta, the red sand dunes of Mui Ne, and finally to the tropical perfection of Phu Quoc Island. Return flights from Nairobi, all luxury accommodation, domestic flights, guided excursions, and travel insurance included.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Golden Bridge at Ba Na Hills, Da Nang — the world-famous bridge held by giant stone hands above misty mountain peaks, reached by one of Southeast Asia's longest cable car rides
- Hoi An Ancient Town — coconut basket boats through the palm forests, lantern workshops, riverside cafés, and an evening lantern cruise on the Thu Bon River
- Quy Nhon — Vietnam's most beautiful emerging coastal destination, with untouched beaches, dramatic cliffs, and fishing villages far from mass tourism
- Ho Chi Minh City — luxury rooftop bars, French colonial boulevards, the Mekong Delta's floating markets, and the extraordinary Cu Chi Tunnels underground network
- Mui Ne red and white sand dunes — a landscape that looks like a desert dropped into the tropics, explored by jeep at sunset with views across the coast
- Phu Quoc Island — white sand beaches, turquoise water, beach clubs, island hopping, snorkelling, and the cable car crossing to Sun World for panoramic views
- Salinda Resort Phu Quoc — one of the island's finest beachfront properties, for the journey's final two nights
- All return flights from Nairobi, domestic flights, visa assistance, and travel insurance included — every logistical detail handled

The Itinerary

01

DA NANG

Days 1–2 | Da Nang — Golden Bridge & Coastal Arrival

Depart Nairobi aboard Qatar Airways or Emirates, connecting into Da Nang International Airport on Vietnam's central coast. A private transfer escorts you directly to TIA Wellness Resort — one of Da Nang's finest beachfront properties, with the South China Sea outside your window and the Marble Mountains visible to the south. After checking in and resting from the journey, the remainder of Day 1 is for beach, the resort's pool, and dinner by the water. Day 2 is given to Ba Na Hills and the Golden Bridge — the most photographed site in modern Vietnam and one of the most visually arresting structures anywhere in Southeast Asia. The cable car ride to the summit climbs through several cloud layers, the coast disappearing below. At the top, two giant stone hands — each five metres across — hold the pedestrian bridge above the mist and forest canopy. The view from the bridge stretches to the coastline on clear days. Return to the resort for dinner, the Marble Mountains silhouetting against the sunset.

02

HOI AN

Day 3 | Hoi An — Ancient Town, Coconut Forest & Lantern River

Transfer to Hoi An — thirty minutes south of Da Nang and an entirely different world. The morning opens with coconut basket boat rides through the Thu Bon River's palm forest: circular bamboo vessels steered by local fishermen who spin them in dizzying circles while demonstrating traditional net fishing among the trees. Check into Anantara Hoi An Resort on the riverfront, then the afternoon is given to the Ancient Town itself — a UNESCO-listed grid of sixteenth-century merchant houses, Chinese clan halls, Japanese bridges, and tailoring shops that can produce custom garments within 24 hours. As evening arrives, the lanterns are lit. Every street corner glows. The river fills with floating candles. Your guide leads you to a lantern boat, and you drift along the Thu Bon as Hoi An becomes the most beautiful version of itself — a city that has barely changed in four centuries.

- Breakfast, Dinner

QUY NHON

Day 4 | Quy Nhon — Vietnam's Hidden Coast

Travel south to Quy Nhon — one of Vietnam's most beautiful coastal cities and, because it lacks a UNESCO listing or a famous landmark, still largely undiscovered by international tourism. The beaches here are extraordinary: long, pale arcs of sand with calm water, backed by dramatic granite headlands and the green slopes of mountains descending directly to the sea. The fishing village of Nhon Hoi — its boats painted blue and red, its harbour full of the circular bamboo thung chai vessels that have been used here for centuries — offers one of the most authentic glimpses of Vietnamese coastal life remaining on the country's coast. Check into Anya Premier Hotel Quy Nhon for dinner on the beachfront terrace.

04

HO CHI MINH CITY & MEKONG DELTA

Days 5–6 | Ho Chi Minh City — Rooftops, History & the Mekong Delta

Board a domestic flight to Ho Chi Minh City — Vietnam's largest and most energetic city, a place where French colonial buildings stand beside glass towers, street food cooks between Gucci boutiques, and the rooftop bars look out over a skyline that has been transforming at extraordinary speed for thirty years. Check into The Reverie Saigon — consistently ranked among Asia's finest city hotels, its interior a theatrical combination of Italian luxury, Venetian glass, and Vietnamese craftsmanship. Afternoon at leisure in the city — the Reunification Palace, Ben Thanh Market, and the rooftop of the Saigon Skydeck. Dinner at one of Saigon's celebrated restaurants. Day 6 is the Mekong Delta — a world that operates entirely on water. A private boat takes you through the channels south of the city to the floating markets of Cai Be, where vendors sell fruit and vegetables from boats tied together in colourful clusters. Coconut candy factories occupy river islands. Palm-shaded villages rise on stilts above the water. The pace here is entirely opposite to the city left behind two hours ago. Return to Ho Chi Minh City in the late afternoon for dinner.

- Breakfast, Dinner both days

05

MUI NE

Day 7 | Mui Ne — Sand Dunes & Coastal Adventure

Travel to Mui Ne — a coastal resort town famous for a landscape that should not logically exist: desert sand dunes, some reaching thirty metres high, dropping directly to a tropical coastline. The white dunes to the north of town are best at sunrise when the light creates long shadows across the sand; the red dunes at the southern end are most dramatic at sunset, the terracotta colour deepening as the light fails. A jeep tour connects both, stopping at the Red Canyon — a miniature badlands of eroded red and white sandstone carved by seasonal streams. Mui Ne is also one of Southeast Asia's top kitesurfing destinations, and the sight of dozens of kites against the coastal sky has its own visual drama. Check into Anantara Mui Ne Resort for dinner on the beach.

06

PHU QUOC ISLAND

Days 8–9 | Phu Quoc Island — Tropical Conclusion

Board a domestic flight to Phu Quoc — Vietnam's largest island and, since its airport opened in 2012, one of Southeast Asia's fastest-developing luxury destinations. The beaches on the western coast are among the finest in the region: long, white, fringed with casuarina trees, the water shallow and warm and a colour that shifts between green and blue depending on the light. Check into Salinda Resort Phu Quoc Island — a boutique beachfront property with direct beach access, an infinity pool, and one of the island's best restaurants. Day 9 is for island exploration. A boat tour visits the An Thoi Archipelago to the south of the island — coral gardens, secluded beaches, and the open water of the Gulf of Thailand. Snorkelling in clear water above healthy reef. The Sun World Phu Quoc cable car crosses three kilometres of open ocean to Hon Thom Island, offering views of the archipelago from above. Return to the resort for a final dinner on the beach as the sun sets over the Gulf of Thailand.

- Breakfast, Dinner both days

PHU QUOC ISLAND

Day 10 | Phu Quoc » Nairobi — Departure

A final morning at the resort — one last swim, one last breakfast on the beach. Private transfers escort you to Phu Quoc International Airport for your connecting flights back to Nairobi via Ho Chi Minh City. Ten days of coastline, culture, and Vietnamese luxury concluded.

- Phu Quoc » Ho Chi Minh City » Nairobi
- Breakfast
